Most breakdown cover companies will offer roadside assistance as a minimum. This means a trained mechanic will come to fix your car if it breaks down on the road. If it can't be fixed, it'll be towed to a nearby garage.

Larger breakdown companies manage a fleet of vans and recovery trucks, with their own staff of expert mechanics. Smaller providers tend to use third-party garages and recovery operators to provide a breakdown service.

Our standard level of cover (Roadside Assistance) is available once you're more than 1/4 mile away from home. We'll help you any time of day or night in the UK, and if we can't fix your vehicle by the roadside, we'll tow you to a local garage for repair.

If you live with others who also need cover as a driver or passenger in any car, you can opt for a policy the covers them too. Choose cover for 2 people (joint policy for you and one other person), or family cover (you and up to 3 other people in your household).
