I'm a 54 year old attorney from Mississippi, who had been practicing law full-time for almost 30 years. I got into the adult industry in 2019 at age 51, and I've never been happier.

I only started watching porn in 2017 when I turned 50, and was dissatisfied with my life at home. I found it to be a safe, fun but challenging thing that I really wanted to try. And then once I tried it, I felt so at home. I knew that's what I really wanted to pursue, what I was literally built to do.

I think I'm much more savvy about many things than a very young incoming performer. I know what to look for and prepare for with the few predatory producers out there, and also I find that I have somewhat of an instant respect because of my age and my prior career. I find that some of the characters with a reputation for being predatory with others do not try things with me. I also have more of an awareness of the consequences of joining the porn industry, what you might stand to lose by way of employment, family or friends.

As I mentioned earlier, I only started watching porn in 2017, other than a few random scenes an old boyfriend showed me in college. But once I started watching and discovered how safe it is to shoot porn (when done properly), and how fit the performers had to be, I became an instant fan. My favorite types of scenes are sensual GG scenes, energetic BG scenes, and BDSM. I tend to like scenes that are more like real sex between two consenting adults, but also BDSM, which is also hugely about consent.

I would say the biggest thing is to understand how huge this bell is that cannot be unrung. There is no way to take down stuff you've shot on the internet, and people around you WILL find out. Your family, friends, your employer & they will all find out. And only if you picture those repercussions on a worst case scenario and decide, as I did, that it was still worth it, then do it. And if you do, hold yourself to your own boundaries. Make sure other performers are tested and safe, know that you do not have to do anything you are uncomfortable with.

First on my list would probably be Julia Ann. Mindy Mink is also one that I regret I didn't have a chance to work with before she retired from shooting with others. There is a long list of ladies and men I'd love to work with, but those two come to mind. As for the men, oddly I'd love to work with The Pope on kink. I love his work and the care he takes with performers on his sets. And I love BDSM.

I consider Julia Ann someone I respect and look up to, and not just for her adult work. She is also a huge animal rights person and I love that about her. I would also actually say that Mike Quasar is someone I massively respect. He does his job, but he is also honest about the pitfalls and issues within the industry.

I would choose my grandmother. She was a great role model for me, but she passed away in 2010 at the age of 98.5. She lived a full life, handled herself like a Boss, and did not back down from any challenge. I’d love the chance to tell her about my love, my life, and all sorts of things.

I love to work out, so that doesn't feel like it’s part of the job, even though it is. I love to run and ride bikes. But I also love to hike. That’s one of my main hobbies: finding parks with trails and just getting off the grid. I travel a good bit to national parks and spend a week to 10 days just hiking. I also love books (I consume audiobooks voraciously), music, and movies. Favorite movies are My Cousin Vinny and Best in Show.

Established in 2006, AIPDAILY stands as one of the longest-running online adult magazines. Our focus includes delivering news, reviews, interviews, and resources tailored for adult creators and performers.
