

Cambodia energy storage systems

The project is aligned with the following impact: adequate and reliable power supply from environmentally sustainable energy sources ensured. The project will have the following outcome: transmission network capacity and stability improved.

Output 1: 115-kilovolt and 230-kilovolt grid infrastructure expanded and reinforced. The project will support the construction of four 115 kV-230 kV overhead and underground transmission lines and 10 substations in Phnom Penh, Kampong Chhnang, Kampong Cham, and Takeo provinces. It will add 13 circuit-kilometers of 230 kV transmission lines; 36.7 circuit-kilometers of 115 kV transmission lines; 1,475 megavolt-amperes of 230 kV-115 kV-22 kV substation transformer capacity; and 350 megavolt-amperes of 115 kV-22 kV substation transformer capacity.

The project is aligned with the following impact: adequate and reliable power supply from environmentally sustainable energy sources ensured. The project will have the following outcome: transmission network capacity and stability improved.

Project implementation consultants will complement EDC staff to ensure a high degree of project management efficiency and provide on-the-job training to strengthen transparency and accountability. In addition, EDC will undertake activities that (i) promote inclusion and gender equality in the workplace, (ii) dismantle gender-based stereotypes related to women's participation in energy sector activities and employment, and (iii) inform communities about the safe use of electricity.

Cambodia has achieved sustained economic progress. Cambodia's per capita gross national income grew on average by 7.1% per annum from $950 in 2013 to $1,390 in 2018. Strong economic growth was driven mainly by urban-based industries such as garment exports and tourism, and, more recently, construction and real estate.

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) is committed to achieving a prosperous, inclusive, resilient, and sustainable Asia and the Pacific, while sustaining its efforts to eradicate extreme poverty. It assists its members and partners by providing loans, technical assistance, grants, and equity investments to promote social and economic development.
