This allows us and our advertising providers to show adverts more relevant to you, limit how often you see an advert and build a profile of your interests. Also to enable you to share our content socially if you wish. Our advertising providers may combine activity information they collect from our website with information they have collected elsewhere. Without this, the adverts you see will be less relevant.

At Duracell Direct we are proud to offer our customers a choice of Duracell laptop accessories alongside Original Brand parts where available. In some instances we may also offer a compatible solution from carefully selected brands such as 2-Power to compliment our range or to cover models that Duracell do not currently cover. 2-Power products are tested to the highest standards and manufactured using high quality components to deliver outstanding performance. Everything you'd expect from Duracell Direct.
