The median after-tax salary is $505, which is enough to cover living expenses for 0.8 months. Ranked 4684th (TOP 50%) in the list of best places to live in the world and 2nd best city to live in Vietnam. With an estimated population of 8.44M, Hanoi is the 2nd largest city in Vietnam.

Livingcost is a crowdsourced database with a cost of living calculator for prices comparison in 9294 cities in 197 countries all over the world. The cost of living calculated as a consumer basket for a moderate lifestyle in developed countries and thus might seem too high for some least developed countries where maintaining such a standard of living is expensive.

Hanoi, Vietnam's vibrant capital, is either the starting or finishing point for travelers in the country as most people travel north to south or south to north. It's a bustling city full of backpackers and travelers with a lot to see and do -- none of which will break the bank.

Hanoi is filled with countless museums all offering visitors a chance to better understand Vietnam's history of the revolution, war, and art. There's also the tangled busy web of streets in the historic Old Quarter to wander around. It is also one of the best places to visit in Vietnam to eat endless bowls of pho, bun cha, or cheap bahn mi from a food vendor on just about every street corner.

In short, there's a lot to do in Hanoi. It's a fascinating city that can keep you busy for days and, thanks to its cheap prices, is a perfect stomping ground for budget travelers and backpackers alike.

Hanoi's oldest market is located in the Old Quarter. The market is a bit of a Hanoi institution and probably the best place for low-cost shopping in the city. Clothing, accessories, food, souvenirs -- you can find it all here. The market is open from 6am-6pm daily. At night, the streets leading to the market are filled with vendors as well.
