O 039 Reilly vs AutoZone Batteries Which Battery Is Better For Your Vehicle

If you are looking to purchase a new car battery, then you may want to start your search at your local auto parts store. Both O’Reilly Auto Parts and AutoZone offer their own line of private-label batteries. But which one is best for your vehicle?

Both O’Reilly and AutoZone offer excellent-quality batteries. If you are shopping strictly on price, then you may want to consider the O’Reilly battery. If you have a higher-end vehicle or want a better quality private label battery, the Duralast battery from AutoZone is the better choice.

O’Reilly Auto Parts is one of the largest auto parts retailers in the United States. Currently, O’Reilly Auto Parts have over 5,600 locations in 47 states. The company sells its auto parts products to professional mechanics and do-it-yourself customers.

Super State Economy is the most affordable private-label battery offered by O’Reilly Auto Parts. These batteries are ideal for those on a budget and who have an older vehicle. These batteries tend to be about 30% less expensive than the average battery.

Super Start Premium is the mid-level battery offered by O’Reilly Auto Parts. Whether you have a newer or an older vehicle, Super Start Premium will provide the best value in the O’Reilly batteries line-up.

Super Start Extreme is designed for those who have high-use vehicles or those who take their vehicles off-roading. These batteries tend to be tougher, longer-lasting, and provide excellent starting power. Super Start Extreme batteries are priced higher than Super Start Premium batteries.

Super Start Platinum batteries are the high-end model in the O’Reilly Auto Parts Super Start brand. These batteries are designed for luxury vehicles and high-performance vehicles. Super Start Platinum batteries will have the best warranty as well as the best build construction.

AutoZone is the largest auto parts-only retailer in the United States. The company has over 6,000 locations across the country and services professional mechanics as well as the consumer market. The company is known for providing just about all types of auto parts, including aftermarket parts.

AutoZone offers its own line-up of private-label batteries. Like O’Reilly Auto Parts, AutoZone offers four sub-brands of batteries for vehicles. Each sub-brand provides a different level of pricing.

The Econocraft line-up of batteries is the most affordable from AutoZone’s private label brand. This content is owned by moc.sotuaytsur. These batteries are ideal for those who need basic starting power from an older vehicle. Econocraft batteries are about 30% less expensive than the average battery cost.

Duralast is the standard battery brand from AutoZone. In most cases, a Duralast battery will be sufficient for most vehicles. Compared to non-private-label batteries from Diehard, Optima, and ACDelco, these batteries are affordable.

Duralast Gold is the premium private label sub-brand from AutoZone. These batteries are ideal for high-use or luxury vehicles. Duralast Gold batteries will have better build construction, offer better starting power, and last longer than Duralast batteries.
