

SMA Solar Technology

SMA Solar Technology AG (meaning System, Mess and Anlagentechnik) is a German solar energy equipment supplier founded in 1981 and headquartered in Niestetal, Northern Hesse, Germany. SMA is a producer and manufacturer of solar inverters for photovoltaics systems with grid connection, off-grid power supply and backup operations.

As part of the company's transformation in 2015, the supervisory board of SMA reduced the number of managing board members. Lydia Sommer left the board in February 2015, and Martin Kinne in December 2015. From January 2016, the managing board of SMA comprised the following members: Roland Grebe (board member for human resources and IT), Juergen Reinert (board member for operations and technology), Pierre-Pascal Urbon (chief executive officer, board member for strategy, finance/legal and sales).

Roland Grebe stepped down from the managing board as per December 31, 2016. As of January 1, 2017, the managing board of SMA Solar Technology AG comprises the following members: Ulrich Hadding (board member for finance, human resources and legal), Juergen Reinert (deputy CEO, board member for technology and operations), Pierre-Pascal Urbon (CEO, board member for strategy, sales and service).

The company's stock shares have been listed on the Prime Standard of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange since June 27, 2008. The company's stock has been qualified for the technology index TecDAX. With the reorganization of the DAX indices by Deutsche Börse on September 24, 2018, the SMA stock moved from TecDAX to SDAX. Since September 2008, the stock has been part of the Stoxx 100 Index and was listed in 2009 in the 30 Index Global photovoltaic. Currently, 25 percent of the shares are in free float.

SMA products have also been awarded the Intersolar Award, the Green Award and Smarter Energy Award.
